Observe to Serve

Your family and friends arrive at a bustling beach, and you check out the scene. Sand castles, splashing waves, and happy people are all around. But take a closer look. Does anyone need help? How can you spread some kindness?

When you search for ways to be of service, chances are you'll find some. You might notice a kid who's been hurt or an elderly person who could use a hand.

Every act of kindness, large or small, sends positive waves everywhere. So let your service add more fun and sun for everyone.

Look around this picnic. Find and circle 13 situations where people are in need of help.
