

Your Career Adventure

"Today's youth must move towards the front ranks of the professions, trades, arts and crafts which are necessary to the further progress of humankind..." —Bahá'í Writings

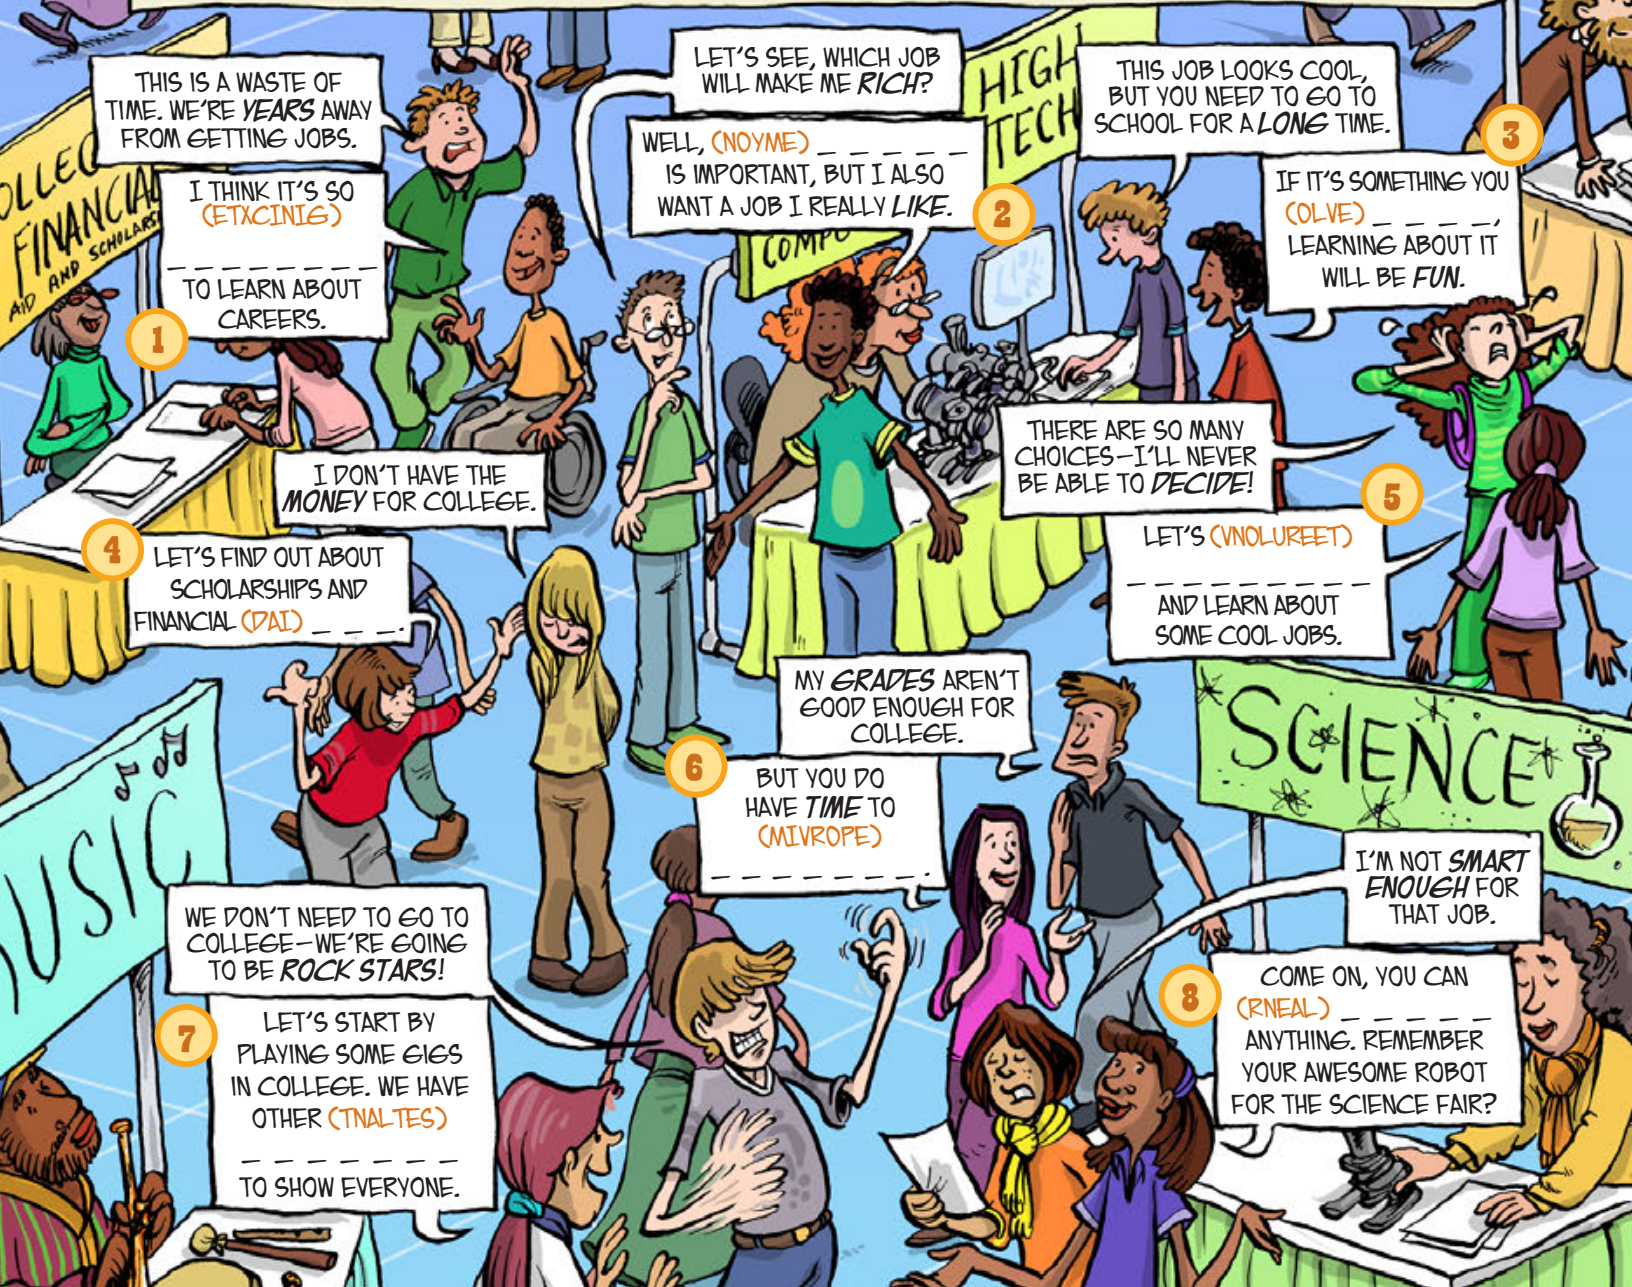

Imagine yourself 15 years from now. How old are you? Where do you live? What's your career? You could be saving lives in an emergency room, traveling into space, or teaching kids in a tropical village. The possibilities are as limitless as your imagination!

There are lots of exciting choices to make as you plan your career. In fact, some kids might find it a little overwhelming. But you can think of your career path as an endless adventure. As on any quest, you may run into some obstacles and tough decisions along the way. Try to see them as opportunities to explore new things and find out what interests you most.

Keep an open mind as you set off on your career adventure. Enjoy the journey, and see where your dreams and talents take you.

At this career fair, some kids are overwhelmed. Unscramble the words to see how their friends encourage them.

It's never too early to start exploring your career adventure. You can have a lot of fun learning about the possibilities. If you aren't sure where to begin, try making a list of subjects and activities you really enjoy. Then find out about jobs that use those skills. Do research at the library or online, and talk to people in those careers. Visit places related to your interests, such as the zoo or a hospital. Shadow someone who has a job that appeals to you—follow them around and see what their day is like.

Investigating job opportunities can lead you to fascinating places. Where will your career quest take you?

These kids are searching for career ideas. Look for them forward, backward, up, down, or diagonally. Have you thought about these careers?
