

Our Global Family

COLOR
& FIND

Our planet is a big place—over seven billion people speaking thousands of languages, stretching across continents, oceans, mountains, and plains. But we all speak the language of friendship. In any culture, a smile, laugh, game, or kind gesture brings hearts together.

When we think of everyone on Earth as members of one human family, we'll want them all to enjoy the same safety, health, education, and respect. Even though some may be thousands of miles away, we can reach out to them instantly with technology. We can learn about their everyday lives and share what we learn with others. And we can remember them in our prayers.

Wherever you may roam across our amazing world, members of your global family are waiting to greet you.

As you color, find the Burj Khalifa, the Great Wall of China, and Easter Island moai. What other sites do you recognize? What places on our diverse planet do you want to visit most?
