

Dance with Diversity

Do you love to dance? The dance floor is bursting with music, movement, and laughter. Everyone is bright with a spirit of joy and friendliness. You're eager to fly onto the floor and join in the fun!

Being part of a vibrant community can feel like that. Everyone is welcome and free to express themselves. Like good dance partners, we learn moves that help keep the party alive. A basic step is being kind and including everyone, no matter what their ethnicity, religion, or class. For example, if someone is sitting alone at an event, try inviting them to hang out with you.

If you stumble and fall out of step sometimes, that's okay. With patience and practice, we can all learn to put our best foot forward and move to the rhythm of friendship and unity.

Find the words at this feathery fiesta to complete tips for being a great dance partner and community builder.
