

JOIN THE PARTY!

Ayyám-i-Há is on its way, and Bahá'ís and friends are getting ready to celebrate! From February 26 to March 1, communities around the world will gather to share this fun and festive holiday.

There are no rituals in the Bahá'í Faith, so everyone observes Ayyám-i-Há in their own way. Some people throw parties or do service together. Some share meals, music, prayers, and gifts.

Ayyám-i-Há is a great chance to spread love and friendship.

The joy from this festival also helps us prepare for the Bahá'í Fast, a time of spiritual rejuvenation. From March 2–20, Bahá'ís aged 15–70 don't eat or drink from sunrise to sunset. It's an opportunity for everyone to focus on prayer and meditation. Join in the spirit of the season with this puzzle inspired by Ayyám-i-Há!
