

Parable of the Sower

Many Messengers of God shared Their teachings in the form of stories. Stories can touch our hearts and inspire us to do amazing things.

Jesus told a story about a farmer who went out to sow seeds. Some seeds fell on a path, and birds ate them. Some fell on rocky ground, and the plants died because they couldn't grow roots. Some fell among thorns, which choked the plants. But some seeds fell on good, moist soil. These seeds grew into healthy plants with lush fruit.

Jesus said the seeds are like the teachings of God. When we open our hearts and absorb God's message of peace and love, we're like rich soil that produces strong, magnificent plants.

Your good deeds and virtues are like fruitful plants.
Imagine using your virtues to help bring peace to the world.
Draw your vision of peace in the scene below.

