

Photo Fun or Photo Flop?

Family photo shoots can be fun—but also frustrating. Everybody rushes to get ready. Then, when you reach a great location, you wait for everyone to get in position. Maybe your sister starts whining or your brother gets his clothes dirty. It can begin to feel like a photo flop instead of a festive photo shoot.

Family time isn't always picture-perfect. It can get hectic, but what counts is how you handle it. Do you complain or keep your cool? Try to zoom in on patience and kindness. Tell jokes to make your sister smile, or help your brother clean up. Embracing your family with love and a spirit of service can help create magical memories.
