

WORLD CITIZEN

If you think of the world as one global community, you're a world citizen! The Bahá'í teachings describe a future of true world citizenship. We'll share Earth's resources fairly. All countries will live in peace and make sure everyone has food, water, energy, medical care, and education. We'll even use the same currency and speak a second language that's understood anywhere. How do you imagine a peaceful planet?

Name:

Age:

Birthplace:

Languages I speak:

Languages I want to speak:

Places I've visited:

Countries I want to visit:

Draw your portrait, or attach your photo.

Favorite memory from my travels:

Animals I want to see in the wild:

Design your world flag.

Three words to describe a world citizen:

Heroes or role models who show world citizenship:

From someone of a different race or culture, I learned:

To stop prejudice and racism, I can:

Things I'd like to see in a peaceful world: